
WHAT ARE SCHOOLS FOR?

Debating Social Justice, Epistemology and Education
from a Sociological and Philosophical Perspective

Wednesday 5. December 2012

10:00 – 13:00

Building 1343-275 (Juridisk Aud.)

Victor Albecks Vej, 8000 Aarhus C

Professor Michael Young and Professor Carl Anders Säfström will present their views on social justice, epistemology, and education from a sociological and philosophical perspective; and discuss what they see as the major challenges of future education.

Professor Michael Young

Professor of Education, Institute of Education, University of London. Professor Young draws on the sociology of knowledge with a specific focus on curriculum issues and the role of qualifications in educational reform.

Professor Carl Anders Säfström

Professor and Dean of Education at Mälardalen, University in Sweden. Professor Säfström's research interests are mainly within the field of education and democracy, with a particular focus on the ethics of responsibility, the politics of emancipation and the aesthetics of freedom as dimensions of teaching and education.

Department of Education, Aarhus University

Campus Aarhus, Niels Juels Gade 84, bygning 2110, 8200 Aarhus N

